

ICA POLICY STATEMENT ON

“Manipulation” Under Anesthesia

The International Chiropractors Association holds that within the armamentarium of chiropractic techniques efficient methods exist that address the pain profiles of even the most sensitive patient.

Furthermore, the chiropractic adjustment relies on the body’s own inherent constructive survival mechanisms to innately accomplish adjustic correction.

In light of the above considerations, the International Chiropractors Association holds that anesthesia is inappropriate and unnecessary to the deliverance of a chiropractic adjustment.